DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pariseau (6,579,006). Pariseau discloses, in fig. 10, a temperature-indicating apparatus 10 adapted for use with a liquid container 104 and a lid 100 receivable at an upper portion of said container, said apparatus comprising recessed means 108 associated with a planar surface of said lid, said recessed means having temperature threshold means 12, 14, 16 for indicating the temperature of a liquid contacting said threshold means, relative to a threshold temperature. Said recessed means comprises a recess downwardly projecting from said plane or surface, and said threshold means is positioned in said recess. Said threshold means comprises a patch of temperature sensitive material secured to said recess. Said lid comprises means for releasably securing said lid to the container and a drinking means. Said recessed means is a substantially conical configuration so that said lids are stackable.

Response to Arguments

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pariseau, U.S. patent No. 6,579,006.
